Murderer Pulliam Escapes From the Asylum—Bitten by a Maddog—Census This Year—Work Begun—Republicans Convene May 29.

PULLIAM ESCAPES AGAIN.

The Hawesville Crazy Murderer Once More at Large.

Ed Fulliam, the Hancock county lunatic, escaped from the Western Asylum Wednesday afternoon for the third time. It will be remembered that Fulliam was returned to the Asylum about three weeks ago, having shot and killed Rev. W. B. Swope a short time before. He had been at the State Hospital for a week before he was sent back and has made several attempts to escape during the last few weeks. Wednesday afternoon while walking in the yard with other patients taking exercise, in charge of the attendants, he suddenly made a break for liberty and escaped from the premises and disappeared. He is the same Ed Fulliam who before he was, Dr. Stone has me out looking for him and will leave nothing undone to capture him before he leaves the county.

A Census This Year.

City Assessor R. M. Hurt will begin his regular assessment on the first of April, and under the terms of the charter for the fourth class cities will be required to take a complete census of the city's population. Five years ago, when the Government census was taken, Hopkinsville was given 5,898 inhabitants. This is the first opportunity that has been afforded to correct the imperfect census of 1890, and the people will await with considerable interest the completion of Mr. Hurt's work. Hopkinsville will be found to have not less than 7,500 people.

Blew Down the Trellis.

What is known as "number six" I believe to be what was formerly the I. A. & T. railroad near Glen Ellen, was blown over and fell with a crash during the bad wind on Sunday night. It was nearly two hundred yards long and about seventy feet high and will be remembered by those who traveled on the old narrow grade before the road was made a standard gauge and the route changed via Princeton Junction.

Bitten by a Mad Dog.

A few days ago Mr. Lerville Hunter, of White Plains, was bitten by a dog, which acted in a manner that indicated hydrophobia. Hunter, fearing that the animal was afflicted with rabies, has gone on a search for a mad stone.

Burglars at Dawson.

A few nights ago the Arcadia hotel at Dawson was entered by thieves and about a hundred dollars worth of jewelry was taken off. They left no trace and their capture is hardly among the probabilities.

At the Governor's.

PARIS, KY., March 5.—The wife of Cassius M. Clay, Jr., candidate for governor, presented him yesterday with a bouncing baby boy. It will be named Cassius W. Jr.

Struck Sulphur Water.

A fine stream of sulphur water was struck in the yard of Mr. J. J. Smith, near Gracey, Wednesday, at a depth of 45 feet. The stream is a very full one, and the water strongly impregnated with sulphur.

Republican Convention.

The Bradys forces have won and the Republicans will have an early convention. It will be at Louisville, May 29, a month earlier than the Democratic convention.

Work Has Begun.

Mr. Jesse W. Starr, who has the waterworks contract, started to work yesterday with 25 or 30 hands.

A Distressing Earthworm.

South of the home of the author is an earthworm, a creature closely related to our common anglerworm, which is not only a giant among the denizens of the soil, but which is reputed to have a taste for human blood. There are two species of this uncanny wiggler, one of a dull red color and the other almost black. They are larger than one's finger, and from three to four feet in length.

Errors of the favorable results of the anti-tariff legislation are to come in; in Trieste the death rate in cases of diphtheria has fallen from fifty to eighteen per cent; in Bukowina from sixty-three to sixteen per cent.

In Northport Town the sun goes down before the hill, then all is still within the town, and the village, where a bellows is in the air.

A plump host of crickets yield

A jingling of bells.

And there the moon looks kindly down in mellow beams on Northport's town.

GOOD ROADS TALK.

Another Article from Ja on the Subject of Free Turnpikes.

EDITOR KENTUCKIAN: I see you head the article against free turnpikes from "Supervisor" as jumping on "J." Well, I have expected to be jumped on. No great enterprise has ever succeeded without argument pro and con. My idea was to get the matter before the people and try to evolve some plan for roads, better than the system now in vogue.

Our correspondent in opposition has an erroneous idea that we are trying to get the county court to buy up the pikes in the southern part and tax the other sections to pay for them. That is not the case in this state. By no means can I stand in favor of a fair and equitable arrangement—giving no preferences, and placing the money where it will do the most good to the many, and to buy no roads already built until the court can see their way clear to do so. In fact I know of no example of a state ever doing what they are now doing in upper counties. My understanding is that by mass meetings of the citizens they determined to avail themselves of the recent enactments, and so petitioned their several courts. All were taken at once.

Now, six of our main roads are paid for, and the more, and those mainly in the northern part of the county, would be all that are necessary to open the main avenues of trade and travel. I think it decided necessary and fair topike all roads, of those roads first, and particularly the roads leading to the coal fields, which are checked to the railroads. The railroads are now delivering. It would certainly be unfair to tax those having no pikes to buy up those ready-existing. And it would be unjust and illegal to pile parallel roads to these pikes by private subscription. The court gave them the roads to implement their many provisions. Supervisor writes of 900 miles of road in the county. Of course, it will now be contemplated to pile all—ad it is entirely unnecessary as he knows, I stick to my original proposition, that fifty miles more in the several roads north and east of them already built will open the main avenues, sufficient to the end to be desired.

Supervisor does me a kindness in justice when he thinks that I have intended or made any reflections on the present magistrates. They have done remarkably well. Have spent more money in roads than any other county in the State, and unless they change their system, they will do so again. They have done all the good they possibly could do, and all the people have miserable roads and the people complain. It was the system and not the court that is a source of ridicule and extravagance. Now, I will call Supervisor to task. He has not done his duty to the public. He will find himself in trouble if he will call me a scoundrel. I am not on the secretary of any of the pikes. They can and will show him that our pikes are a paying investment, and will average the dividends. I claim from 8 to 12 per cent. He will also find that he cannot buy a share of stock at par. So his immundo is that he has not done his duty to the public. He will find himself in trouble if he will call me a scoundrel. I am not on the secretary of any of the pikes. During the last seven months 113,375 immigrants have landed at New York.

Mr. W. S. Sterrett, of Hawesville, is now doing editorial work on the Owensboro Inquirer.

And so Anna Gould is now the Countess Cash-tell-Anne, and we will lose the income tax on three millions.

Editor J. J. Glenn, of Madisonville, has decided to become a candidate for Register of the Land Office. We are for him.

Under a new law, the express companies are now forbidden to carry lottery tickets. The lotteries are at lat on their last legs.

The much talked of wedding of he Count Castellane to Miss Anna Gould and $3,000,000 of the late Jay Gould's money, took place at New York Tuesday.

Grover Cleveland's term as President was half out Monday. Most Democrats would be glad to see him resign and let Stevenson finish out the other half.

A diamond weighing 971 carats, or nearly a half pound, the largest known, has been found in South Africa. As it is valued at $1,000,000, it is not likely that any body in Hopkinsville will want to buy it.

The Louisville papers claim to have unearthed a scheme to North Carolina in the coming legislature by a fusion between Republicans and Populists, in which Dr. James and Tom Pott are the leading spirits. It is probably a false alarm. The currency plank in the Populist platform would prevent such a fusion, if it is a party of principles.

That skeleton in the Vanderbilt closet has at last been brought out and Mrs. Vanderbilt has been granted an absolute divorce from her husband Willie K. Vanderbilt. The mother is given the custody of the three children, with the liberty of marrying again, which privilege is withheld from Willie in the decree.

An Oregon gold mine that recently failed for $3,000,000 has been bought by a syndicate represented by a Louisville man for $9,000. It will probably be presented to that distinguished auriferous entomologist, Editor Dick Knott, as a slight testimonial of the service he will render the country by the publication of his forthcoming book of sixteen volumes, entitled "What I Don't Know About The Currency Question."

In Fleming county warrants have been issued for the arrest of every doctor in the county for failing to register a list of births and deaths during the past year. Forty-four turnpike presidents will also be arrested for failing to file annual reports. The laws violated were passed by the last legislature, and the same trouble may be expected in every county in the State where the people have not become familiar with the new statutes.

The Supreme Court has rendered a decision that American patents must expire here at the same time that the same patents expire abroad. This affects many patents of great importance, including the telephone patents upon which the present monopoly is seeking an extension. As soon as the Bell case can be reached on the dockets, a decision foreseen by the present one will be rendered ending the telephone litigation and insuring cheap telephones.

About the raciest reading in the Courier Journal for some time was that four-column silver argument of Proctor Knott's last Friday. He skinned his critics, defied his enemies and proved his statements all along the line. His arguments were unanswerable and his sarcasm as biting as a March blizzard. It was amusing to see the antics of the goldbugs on the Louisville papers floundering about in a diarrhea of words trying to answer his facts and figures.

Grover has gone on a fishing trip to North Carolina.

The proposed new free silver party is a movement entirely unnecessary. Two of the present parties are pledged to bi-metallism, and it is nonsense to talk of a third political organization on the same idea. The work of restoring silver to its proper place in our currency can and will be done by the Democratic party.

The sum of $100,000 has been allowed for the expenses of the nine American delegates who will attend the proposed monetary conference. The Senators are Jones, of Arkansas; Daniel and Teller. The Representatives are Crisp, Culbertson and Hilt. All are Democrats except Teller and Hilt, and all are silver men. The President will appoint the other three and they will undoubtedly be goldolaters.

The House agreed to the Senate's $5,000,000 sugar bounty appropriation last week by the close vote of 134 to 125. Of the Kentucky members, Caruth Berry, Breckinridge Becket and Stone voted for the grab and McCrory and Montgomery against it. The others were absent. In the Senate, both Lindsey and Blackburn were on the wrong side and voted for the bounty. The only charitable view to take of the action of the Democrats who voted for a bounty condemned by the party platform, is that they may have been re-deeming promises made when the Louisiana Senators were induced to vote for the tariff bill and save it from defeat.

Chairman Burnett has called a meeting of the Democratic executive committee of the First railroad district at Paducah to-day, to fix a time and place for holding a convention to nominate a candidate for a railroad commissioner. The committee is composed of Henry Burnett, of Paducah; Urey Woodson, of Owensboro; Wilbur F. Browder, of Russellville; Murray Hubbard, of Hodgenville, and R. M. Jackson, of London. The district is composed of 39 counties in the First, Second, Third, Fourth and Eleventh congressional districts. The candidates are A. Miller, of Calloway; W. G. Morrow, of McCracken; R. L. Moore, of Crittenden; F. J. Dempsey, of Hopkins, and Frank Richardson, of Christian. It is believed that Henderson will be selected as the place and the latter part of May as the time.

STRIKES AND STRIKERS.

Alex Sweet Accuses Jacob Some Queer Doings.

Indirectly the Farmers' War Have Been Responsible for the Brooklyn Strike and Riot - How to Prevent Trouble in the Future.

(Special New York Letter.)

The strike is not a modern invention. It has existed in some shape or other ad infinitum, and it will continue to exist until the end of all things, for it is caused by poverty, and strikes, for the very highest authority, for the best of the poor will always be with us.

Let us take out the case of Abel. The first strike on record is that of Jacob against his employer and father-in-law Laban, who was the owner of a stock ranch in the early days. Jacob's grievance is briefly, but succinctly, set forth in the forty-first verse of the thirty-second chapter of Genesis. It reads:

"Thus have I been for twenty years in thy house; I served thee fourteen years for thy two daughters, and six years for thy cattle; and thou hast changed my wages ten times."

"Now Jacob struck his complex features higher, weeping and getting them wetter, went out. This was one of the few strikes that was a success, for Jacob went into business on his own account, and prospered. It will be noticed, however, that had it not been for a bad dream, he would not have brought Jacob to terms. In this, the first of all recorded strikes, the Almighty aided with the oppressed.

Another notable strike was that of the Israelites against the exactions of Pharaoh, he of the hundred and ten millions of dollars of strikes. When Pharaoh called out his militia, to bring the strikers to terms, they came to grief in a miraculous manner in the Red sea. However, it is only fair to call attention to the fact that Pharaoh, in view of the terrible strike he never had published. The strike may have been some mitigating circumstances, for the subsequent conduct of the children of Israel, in putting to the sword those with whom they did not agree, justifies the suspicion that they themselves, were not entirely devoid of discreditable conduct. It may also be mentioned that before leaving Egypt Moses struck an Egyptian so hard that he never rallied from the effect of the blow.

I now see that Egyptian obelisks in Central park without thinking about the row between Moses and Pharaoh, for it was one of the obelisks in front of the temple of On, at which institution Moses was a student. There it was that he acquired much of that wisdom for which he was famous. And when Strange isn't it, that there should be in New York an obelisk at which the great law-giver must have gazed every day? But I am digressing.

A strike very much to be commended was that of the ancient Greeks, who, to avenge the death of their leader, Marco Bozzaris, struck for their altars and their fires.

Strikes are very uncertain as to the ultimate result. They are like runaway horses, those engaged in them do not realize when they start out that they themselves may be fished out of the wreck at the finish.

It even happens that the capitalists utilize strikes for their own benefit. It sometimes occurs that a manufacturer, who holds more stock than he can carry, makes fortune out of misfortune by selling out easily at a good price on a strike. Labor frequently secures dates with the loan of a strike.

Strikes generally affect the strikers more disastrously than the employers. Men have estimated, dollars have not. Again, it is estimated that the amount spent by workers in the United States the last two years would have paid the wages of a hundred thousand men during that period.

One of the greatest obstacles to the success of strikes in large cities is the fact that the strikers, so soon as a strike has been started, the ranks of the strikers are swelled by large accessions from the very toughest elements of society, men who never do honest work under any circumstances whatever. It was to a man of this type that a soft-minded friend of mine in Brooklyn gave an order for a dinner. The bill came in for nine beers and a cigar. The strikers in Brooklyn were also reinforced by foreign anarchists, men who came to the United States from Russia to do work. In the future, as in the past, the objectionable element will exert an influence for evil in every strike that takes place in a large city. Much more trouble is caused by men who can get work, but won't work, than by those who can't get work. Men of this era, particularly when they are large corporations, are always violently opposed to labor demonstrations of any kind. In fact, the baseball player is the only one who might strike at night, and he is not doing it, approved by those for whom he works.

The only persons who seem to profit by riots and strikes are the gamblers who sell extras. They aroused encroachment at all hours during the Brooklyn riots by shouting: "Come over here and buy a death Great Eastern steamer!" It is not unlikely that more people died from pneumonia contracted by going out into the streets at night, thinly clad, to secure the latest news, than were actually killed in the street fighting.

There are, moreover, strikers who are not any too fond of work. There is a well authenticated case of a Brooklyn striker saying to his wife: "More labor troubles; when will the poor laboring man in this land have peace and quiet?" "What does the master now?" asked his wife, "nothing worse, I hope." "Yes, indeed, there is; I heard a rumor that the trolley bosses were going to give in and then I'd have to go to work again."

No, the strikers, no matter how demonstrative his audience or unpopular his theme, ever went through the ordeal to which the new motormen on the Brooklyn trolley car, and his guardian angel, a policeman, with a large club, stood up to him, and the strikers occasionally allowed the strike is supposed to be over. While the strike was at its height rows and fights were of such common occurrence that if at any time there was no rioting going on large crowds gathered around the strikers to watch the matter. However, the new employees became so accustomed to harsh treatment that they were grateful when no more dangerous missiles than eggs of last year's vintage, back-number of and I'll be damned, were thrown at them. Numerous motormen and policemen underwent the experience of that orator at the meeting on the St. Stanislaus, poetically described by Bret Harte. He was hit by a large geological specimen, and then "He stepped up on the floor, and then he no more."

The strikers and many other citizens of Brooklyn entertained a feeling of contempt for the militia until they demonstrated their effectiveness. A private of the Seventy-first regiment, who was returning to New York on a few hours' leave of absence, was standing on the platform of an elevated station, when he was approached by an older soldier, who asked him if he had seen the militia. The latter expressed his concern for himself. The former responded that with "a cold blackthorn" he could make short work of a militiaman with his gun and bayonet.

"Where would you hit me?" asked the soldier, looking at his comrade.

"On the top of your account, be d-d!"

"Well, stand back, and I'll show you what I'd do," replied the soldier, making the head parry and lunging forward with his bayonet. "That's what I'd do, and you and your old blackthorn would be d-d."

"Did you ever see the like?" ejaculated the Irishman, satisfied that a musket and bayonet are not to be trifled with when in the hands of a man who knows what to do with them.

The great question of the day is: "What is the cause of the strikes?" They are going to occur in the future as they have in the past, involving untold misery and financial loss.

Socialists have a remedy, but it is only popular with those who have no money. It is immediately apparent various reasons.

They propose to have a general division of property. That might do for a short time, but it would not be very long before those who were not adapted to shareable and a sedentary life would be compelled to "divide," and would ultimately become monotonous, and create bad feeling. There is another serious objection to the general division plan. According to the socialists, any property is robbery, hence, as the socialists are worse than the thief, any socialist who takes any of the property is a receiver of stolen goods. It would not be right to thus place temptation in the path of the thief.

"I might forget to say that another remedy is to return to the doctrine of the primitive Christian church. Let all men be converted. Then they will pass all their money over to the common fund and cash out to take care of his needs.

This, of course, leaves the hearty cooperation of the large capitalists, and I regret to say that, as far as New York is concerned, there is no indication of the participation of the Astors and Vanderbilts, hence it would not be fashionable with most of the society people.

ALEX H. SWEET.

ABOUT EUROPEAN CITIES.

BERLIN has no slums. Even in the poorest quarters the streets are paved with asphalt and are kept faultlessly clean.

At Chester, England, the recorder has received for the fourth time in five years a pair of white gloves in token of there being no criminal cases on the calendar.

Sunderland. More money has been subscribed than was asked for to build the canal that will connect the town with the sea at Goole, on the Humber.

The famous house at Eisleben, Germany, where Little Jesus was born has been demolished and restored in newly ornate style. It is open to the public a few weeks ago as a kind of museum of relics of the great reformer.

ELBEUF, the center of the French woolen cloth manufacture, is so well off that it has abolished military service, and now demands the government to duty to do away with the octroi. He has to do with provisions entering the town.

POINTS FROM THE RAILS.

An expert capitalist has been appointed to test the strength of all conductors, engines, and breakers on the Canadian Pacific lines.

A BILL has been introduced in the Massachusetts legislature making it illegal for passengers to stand in the aisles or on the platforms of street cars.

CAPT. W. G. KIDD has been conductor of the passenger train on the Nashville & Pulaski (Tenn.) railroad since 1887, and has never missed a trip. He is seventy-two years old.

GREAT progress has been made in railroad building in Switzerland within four years. Ten mountains have been crossed to the Lake of Biel, 7,888 feet, being the highest. An interior railway, tunneled up to the top of the Jungfrau, is now proposed.

When Others Fail

Hood's Saraparilla builds up the shattered system by giving vigorous action to the digestive organs, creating an appetite and purifying the blood. It is prepared by the best methods, possessing the greatest curative powers, and has the most wonderful record of actual cures of any medicine in existence. Take only Hood's.

Hood's Pills are purely vegetable and do not purge, pain or grip.

He has no more.

The supreme court of Indiana has decided that it is unlawful for a woman in that state to hold a saloon license, and no debt contracted by a woman in that state will be valid.

JOSÉ ROSEN A. PAYSON, of New York, remarks sarcastically that the marriage service should be amended so as to read: "Husband and wife until death or divorce do us part."

The Ingalls county (Mich.) circuit court adjourned from the day Monday and Tuesday in a litigation involving a calf, valued at eighteen dollars. Wednesday and Thursday the court settled a sheep case, where the difference between the parties was fifty cents.

ARMY AND NAVY NOTES.

FOUR HUNDRED tons of top weight must come off of the new French battleship Brennus before she can be made seaworthy.

DIAKYRUS is to be sent to the Iles du Salut, off the coast of French Guiana, instead of to New Caledonia, as the chief criminal of the island will be sent there.

BAUERESS SERZETZKI has a little brother. The baroness is Princess Elizabeth of Bavaria, who a year ago eloped with a young cavalry lieutenant, whom she married. Her mother is Princess Gisela, daughter of the emperor of Austria.

MISS MARY L. LANE, of Forest City, Mo., was examined by a board of pension surgeons recently for a pension as the dependent child of a union soldier. She weighs 428 pounds, and as a result of the surplus adiposity is unable to do any work, hence the pension.

To the above you may add, be d-d!

"Well, stand back, and I'll show you what I'd do," replied the soldier, making the head parry and lunging forward with his bayonet.

"Where would you hit me?" asked the soldier, looking at his comrade.

"On the top of your account, be d-d!"

"Well, stand back, and I'll show you what I'd do," replied the soldier, making the head parry and lunging forward with his bayonet.

"That's what I'd do, and you and your old blackthorn would be d-d."

"Did you ever see the like?" ejaculated the Irishman, satisfied that a musket and bayonet are not to be trifled with when in the hands of a man who knows what to do with them.

The great question of the day is: "What is the cause of the strikes?" They are going to occur in the future as they have in the past, involving untold misery and financial loss.

Socialists have a remedy, but it is only popular with those who have no money. It is immediately apparent various reasons.

They propose to have a general division of property. That might do for a short time, but it would not be very long before those who were not adapted to shareable and a sedentary life would be compelled to "divide," and would ultimately become monotonous, and create bad feeling. There is another serious objection to the general division plan. According to the socialists, any property is robbery, hence, as the socialists are worse than the thief, any socialist who takes any of the property is a receiver of stolen goods. It would not be right to thus place temptation in the path of the thief.

"I might forget to say that another remedy is to return to the doctrine of the primitive Christian church. Let all men be converted. Then they will pass all their money over to the common fund and cash out to take care of his needs.

This, of course, leaves the hearty cooperation of the large capitalists, and I regret to say that, as far as New York is concerned, there is no indication of the participation of the Astors and Vanderbilts, hence it would not be fashionable with most of the society people.

CONSUMPTION

Given Over by the Doctors

LIFE SAVED BY

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL

"Seven years ago, my wife had a severe attack of lung trouble which the physicians pronounced consumption. Doctor said it was extremely dangerous, especially at night, and was frequently attended with the spitting of blood. The doctor being unable to help her, I turned her over to Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and she soon obtained great relief it gave. After using one bottle, she was cured, so that now she is quite strong and healthy. That this medicine saved my wife's life, I have not the least doubt." —K. Morris, Memphis, Tenn.

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others, and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, have found by adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principle embodied in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

It is well known to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectively cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches, and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the kidneys, liver, bowels, and heart without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 50c and $1 bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., whose name is printed on the package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

A BIG SHOW COMING.

As will be seen by advertising column the great yankee drama of "Si Plunkard" is to be presented at the Opera House Wednesday eve, March 13. This is one of the most laughable plays ever put upon the stage, but at the same time has an interesting plot. It is presented by an excellent company, with the famous Yankee comedian, J. C. Lewis, in the title role. The orchestra is a large and very fine one, and in fact everything connected with the show is first class.

The prices of admission are so arranged as to be a packed house on the occasion. The press of this and other States speak in the highest terms of the show.

CITY TAXES FOR 1893.

City taxes for 1893 are long since overdue and unless they are paid by April 1, I shall advertise the property for sale.
